

ARE YOU READY?

A fun game played by students at schools throughout South Sudan is Are You Ready?

AIM OF THE GAME: One tagger tries to tag everyone in the group to remove them from the game.

SETUP: The playing field consists of a large circle with 4 areas designated as out of bounds (black areas).

INSTRUCTIONS:

- The tagger begins in the middle of the playing circle.
- The rest of the players can stand anywhere inside the circle that is not out of bounds.
- Once the game begins players can run anywhere that is not out of bounds.
- The game is similar to the game 'line tag' which is played in New Zealand.
- When players are tagged they must leave the playing area and wait around the outside of the circle.
- It is important to note that taggers must also stay away from out of bounds areas.

FINDING A WINNER:

There are two ways that the game is played to determine a winner:

- 1) A stopwatch could be used to see if a tagger can tag everyone before the time is up; or
- 2) The player who is tagged last wins the game.

VARIATIONS:

Changing the size of the circle and the out of bounds areas will change the level of difficulty for the tagger. A more extreme game would see multiple taggers with the additional rule that when players are tagged they become 'frozen'. When another free player touches them they can be saved and run once more.
